Rock Springs Senior High

Adieu

We, the last class to be graduated from the Old Building, bid an affectionate farewell to those class rooms endeared to us by four happy years; to those associations which must now be broken and replaced by others, but the memory of which will be forever ours. The scarred walls and desks will always seem our friends, no matter how far away life may take us, and we shall never cease to feel the warm welcome of the old halls, which were our second home.

Board of Control

The Board of Control is composed of the officers and sponsor of the Student Association, and the chairman of the various councils. The purpose of the association is to develop co-operation among the students in all lines of activity, with the main purpose of bettering our school. With faculty guidance, many school affairs are turned over to this group to handle.

This year, representatives were elected from the home rooms, to attend the meetings and report to the pupils the questions raised, and policies decided upon in the board meetings.

One of the outstanding events sponsored by the association this year was the All School Leadership Conference held December 3 and 4, in which representatives from all neighboring towns met in Rock Springs to discuss various problems connected with student associations.

Gros Ventre

Gros Ventre is a chapter of the Honorary Society of Secondary Schools of America. Its purpose is to encourage scholarship, character, leadership, and service.

Not more than fifteen per cent of the graduating class may be elected, and these must be chosen from the upper twenty-five per cent of the class. Members are elected by a faculty committee, and are awarded a pin, on which are symbolized the qualities for which the society stands.

To encourage scholarship, our chapter each year awards a pin to the girl and to the boy having the highest grades in the freshman class.

To qualify for membership, one must represent his school in debate, oratory, or declamation, and must have grades equal to or above the average of the school.

The total membership is 37, 13 of whom have graduated, leaving 24 active members. Interest has been great enough to almost double the membership this year.

National Athletic Scholarship Society

Something New Tomorrow—

The world is changing rapidly—science daily brings something new and better * * *. The trained person with a college education is equipped to take professional advantage of scientific progress.

Wyoming's only institution of higher learning is keeping apace with the times. Her graduates are trained to recognize and take advantage of the new things in Agriculture, Engineering, Law and Education. Five great colleges on one campus provide exceptional opportunities for study in thirty departments and divisions.

Recognized nationally, well equipped for service, state operated and state conscious, with the future welfare of Wyoming's boys and girls at heart, no better place can be found for preparation for tomorrow's new things than at

To the Graduates—

Commencement means the end of high school activities and the beginning of new and more serious responsibilities

Success in these new activities will depend upon careful planning for the future. Such planning will naturally include the selection of a banking connection, which will be of benefit in many ways.

We invite your consideration of this strong institution as your connection.
